(Little Rock) - The Arkansas Natural Resources Commission announced today, approval of a loan in an amount up to $2,500,000 from the Arkansas Clean Water State Revolving Loan Fund to the Runyan Sewer Improvement District #211 (Pulaski County), according to Commission Chairman Fred Fowlkes. The loan repayment schedule will not exceed 20 years. The Executive Director will set the combined borrower rate and loan terms. Approval is contingent upon the District establishing and maintaining a three percent depreciation reserve fund.

"The funds will be used to rehabilitate the sanitary sewer collection system by replacing certain sewer lines and manholes. This project will also improve basin levees to prevent erosion along the side slopes," said Mark Bennett, ANRC Water Development Division Manager.
