The Arkansas General Assembly is composed of 135 members: 100 House members and 35 Senate members. Over 2,000 bills have been filed during a General Session, and the Legislature in years past has passed more than half of the bills introduced into law.

The lobbying process is often chaotic with numerous viewpoints competing for the lawmakers’ attention. During the session, the Arkansas Municipal League staff will be working on behalf of the cities and towns of Arkansas to promote and protect the interests of Arkansas municipalities.

Influencing lawmakers should be considered a team effort of local municipal officials and the League staff. Working together, we can make each session a success for Arkansas municipalities.
Key Municipal Principles

• The concept of Home Rule
  The Arkansas Municipal League strongly believes in the philosophy of local control that allows municipal governments maximum flexibility and discretion in governing themselves. Local control should remain. We urge the state Legislature to resist imposing additional, mandated responsibilities upon local governments without providing the financial resources to fund such mandates. Preemption of local control should also be avoided.

• Protection of local sales tax
  The League strongly believes that the state should protect the authority of cities and towns to levy local sales taxes. Local sales taxes are used for municipal operations and numerous local capital improvement projects, including public safety, public works, and recreation facilities. The League policy is that the state should avoid raising the state sales tax and granting sales tax exemptions. The state should concentrate on broadening the sales tax base and having as low a sales tax rate as possible.
  The League also maintains that the state should see that state turnback to municipalities is maintained at a level commensurate with the responsibilities of municipal government.

• Water District funding
  State water loans and grants should be used efficiently. Funding rural water districts at exorbitant costs per user is not wise usage of public funds and unnecessarily leads to urbanization of our state’s natural areas, which more properly should be utilized for agriculture, hunting, fishing, and other outdoor activities our beautiful state makes possible.

• Highways and Street Programs
  The League holds that any new highway program should consider all segments of our statewide transportation network, including state highways, county roads, and city streets. Therefore, any new highway program that generates revenue should include the traditional 70-15-15 (70 percent to the state, 15 percent to the cities, 15 percent to the counties) formula that has been successful in the past. A state aid street program is now in effect by virtue of Amendment 91, passed in 2012 and should be supported and maintained as approved by the electorate.
The Arkansas Constitution calls for the General Assembly to meet on the second Monday of January (Jan. 9, 2017) of each odd-numbered year. Arkansas voters in 2008 passed Amendment 86, which requires the Legislature to meet in even-numbered years beginning in 2010 for a 30-day fiscal session.

There are 135 members of the General Assembly. The Senate has 35 members; the House of Representatives has 100. The Lieutenant Governor presides as President Pro Tempore of the Senate; and the Speaker, who is elected by House members, presides in the House.

Senate members may hold office for a total of 16 years of any combination in either chamber.

House members may hold office for a total of 16 years of any combination in either chamber.

The process of making a bill become law begins in the committees.

There are 10 standing Senate committees that report back to the Senate with recommendations after committee hearings. Each Senator serves on two of the standing committees. Each standing committee has eight members.

There are 10 standing House committees. Each Representative serves on two standing committees. Each House committee has 20 members.

Each committee (both House and Senate) has a chair and vice chair who are appointed to these positions by the Speaker of the House and the President Pro Tempore, respectively.

Standing committees consist of legislators who are appointed to study and hear legislative proposals according to subject matter. Examples of standing committees are City, County and Local Affairs Committee and Revenue and Tax Committee.

Several “select” committees in both the House and Senate address in-house concerns, and there are several “joint” committees made up of representatives from both the House and Senate.

Committee meetings are open to the public, and the public is often asked to testify.

During the legislative session, committees usually meet in the morning to hear bills.
A bill is simply an idea that someone would like to become law. The idea can come from anyone, but only a representative or senator can take that idea and guide it through the General Assembly. Once a bill is introduced by a legislator, it is referred to a committee. The full committee holds hearings on the bill and may consider it in its original form or amend it prior to voting on the bill. All bills must obtain a majority vote of the committee members in order to be recommended for passage. It is in the committee where the bill is usually amended, tabled, or killed.

If the bill receives a “do pass” recommendation by the majority of the committee, then it is ready for the House or Senate floor where it may be debated. If the bill passes, it is then sent to the other chamber where the same process is repeated. It should be understood that the bulk of legislative work is done by standing committees and not, as commonly believed, by debate during floor sessions.

Once both the House and Senate agree on the exact language of the bill, it is sent to the Governor for his signature. If the Governor signs the bill it becomes law, usually upon the Governor’s signing if it is an emergency. Should the Governor veto the bill, the Legislature has the option of trying to override the veto with a simple majority vote.

Effective Ways to Influence Your Legislator

- Make it your business to become acquainted with your Senator and Representative before the session begins.
- Inform your legislators of the key principles of League policies and statewide issues of municipal concern.
- Participate in the legislative process, staying current with League Legislative Bulletins and responding to legislative alerts. (www.arml.org)
- Be prepared to call, write, fax, email, or text your legislators about issues that will affect your municipality.
- Hold legislators accountable for their positions.
- Thank your legislators when they support your position.
Senator or Representative has bill drafted by Bureau of Legislative Research

Chief Clerk of House or Secretary of the Senate assigns a bill number

Bill gets 1st and 2nd reading before the full House or Senate

Bill is assigned to appropriate committee and hearing is conducted. Committee action results in:

- DO PASS RECOMMENDATION
  - Referred to full house
  - Placed on calendar for 3rd reading and floor debate (bill sponsor is only one to bring it up for consideration)
  - When passed by one house, the bill is sent to the other chamber where entire process is repeated
  - Other chamber passes bill as is

- DO PASS AS AMENDED
  - If amended on floor, return to Committee for approval

- DO NOT PASS
  - If not concurred, bill dies or goes to Joint Conference Committee. If agreement reached by committee, then

- REFERRED TO JOINT INTERIM COMMITTEE

To Governor

- Sign bill and it becomes law
- Veto
- Not sign it within five days and it becomes law without signature—20 days after end of session

Legislature may override veto with majority vote in both House and Senate
